An important message about a change in your electricity supply price

November 2, 2026

Your electricity account is enrolled in Bellingham Power Choice, our Town's group electricity buying program. Since launching in 2017, the program has saved Bellingham electricity customers more than $5.7 million compared with utility prices, though future savings cannot be guaranteed.

Through the program, you receive a Bellingham Power Choice price for the Supply Services portion of your National Grid bill. Within the program, you are enrolled in the Power Choice Standard option, which provides the lowest price in the program.

Current program prices will expire in December, and new, 12-month prices will take effect. Electricity supply prices have increased since 2025, when the current prices were secured, so your new price will be higher than your current price.

- Your current electricity supply price is 12.964 ¢/kWh. Your new electricity supply price will be 14.850 ¢/kWh.
- Your new price will be stable from December 2026 until December 2027.
- Your new price will be lower than National Grid's current residential and commercial prices. See the table to compare your new price with National Grid's prices.

Your new electricity supply price:
14.850 ¢/kWh
